Shares of closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. Once issued, shares of closed-end funds are bought and sold in the open market through a stock exchange and frequently trade at prices lower than their net asset value. Net Asset Value (NAV) is total assets less total liabilities, which includes preferred shares, divided by the number of common shares outstanding.

Total investment return does not reflect broker sales charges or commissions. All performance information is for common shares of the fund. The performance information does not reflect the deduction of fees and taxes that a shareowner would pay on Trust distributions or the sale of Trust shares. Had these fees and taxes been reflected, performance would have been lower.

When net asset value (NAV) is lower than market price, dividends are assumed to be reinvested at the greater of NAV or 95% of the market price. When NAV is higher, dividends are assumed to be reinvested at prices obtained through open market purchases under the Trusts dividend reinvestment plan.

Without sales charge results represent the percent change in net asset value per share. With sales charge returns reflect deduction of maximum sales charge as follows: Domestic and International Equity funds, 5.75%; Asset Allocation fund, 5.75%; Fixed Income funds, 4.50% except Pioneer Short Term Income Fund and Pioneer Multi-Asset Ultrashort Income Fund, which have no sales charge; Flexible and Balanced Funds, 4.50%. The Pioneer U.S. Government Money Market Fund does not have an initial sales charge on Class A shares. All results are historical and assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. Performance results reflect any applicable expense waivers in effect during the periods shown. Without such waivers fund performance would be lower. Waivers may not be in effect for all funds. Certain fee waivers are contractual through a specified period. Otherwise, fee waivers can be rescinded at any time. Periods less than one year are actual not annualized. See the prospectus and financial statements for more information.

The performance of Class C shares does not reflect the 1% front-end sales charge in effect prior to 2/1/04. If you paid a 1% sales charge, your returns would have been lower. Class C shares held for less than one year are subject to a 1% contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC). All results are historical and assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains. Effective December 1, 2020, Class C shares will automatically convert to Class A shares after 8 years.

Certain Pioneer funds (the "Funds") issued Investor Class shares in connection with the reorganization of Safeco mutual funds. The Funds are not offering additional Investor Class shares except in connection with the reinvestment of dividends on the Funds' outstanding Investor Class shares. All Investor Class shares of the Funds, whenever issued, convert to Class A shares of their respective Funds on December 10, 2006. Investor Class shares are not subject to sales charges.

Except for Pioneer U.S. Government Money Market Fund, the performance of Class R shares for the period prior to the commencement of operations of Class R shares is based on the performance of Class A shares, reduced to reflect the higher distribution and service fees of Class R shares. For the period after the inception, the actual performance of Class R shares is reflected, which performance may be influenced by the smaller asset size of Class R shares compared to Class A shares. The performance of Class R shares does not reflect the 1% CDSC that was in effect prior to 7/1/04. Class R shares are not subject to sales charge and are available for certain tax-deferred retirement plans.

Performance for periods prior to the inception of Class K and Class Y shares may reflect the NAV performance of the Fund's Class A shares. The performance does not reflect differences in expenses, including the 12b-1 fees applicable to Class A shares. Since fees for Class A shares are generally higher than those of Class K and Class Y shares, the performance shown for the Class K and Class Y shares prior to their inception would have been higher. Class K and Class Y shares are not subject to sales charges and are available for limited groups of eligible investors, including institutional investors.

The net expense ratios listed reflect contractual expense limitations currently in effect through the dates listed below. There can be no assurance that Amundi US will extend the expense limitations beyond such time. Please see the prospectus and financial statements for more information:
