Noah Funderburk is a Senior Vice President, Director of Securitized Credit, and Portfolio Manager at Amundi US. In this role, Noah leads the Securitized Credit team, which manages dedicated Securitized Credit portfolios as well as Securitized Credit investments held across US-managed portfolios. He is also a portfolio manager for multi-sector short duration and ultra-short duration fixed income portfolios.

Prior to his current role, he was responsible for credit analysis and trade execution within mortgage credit sectors, and spearheaded the development of Amundi US's quantitative mortgage credit models.

Noah joined the firm's Quantitative Research Group in 2008 after graduating with high distinction from the University of Colorado, Boulder, where he majored in finance and minored in mathematics and economics as a student in the Quantitative Finance certificate program. He became a CFA® charterholder in July 2012.
